A SERVICE FOR DISCRIMINATING BUYERS

Please say you saw it in the SPECTATOR... That will help me have a better column. -- Betsy Abbott.

EXQUISITE $5.95 HAND-MADE BLOUSES, imported from Switzerland, are now in LYNN'S LTD., Carmel. Included are lace-trimmed Swiss batiste blouses with long sleeves and turned back cuffs, which can be worn with suits or separately with skirts. There is a pique blouse with tucked front and short sleeves which has good looking rhinestone buttons. It can be worn with a suit or would be dashing with a velveteen evening jacket. Also included in this selection are eyelet embroidery and organza blouses with delicate and painstaking workmanship.

In addition, there are silk faille blouses for the same price of $5.95 - really a steal! They have little rounded collars on which is pinned an attractive piece of jewelry of gold and rhinestone which match the buttons. The colors are rose, yellow, pale pink, and mint.

Before I forget, LYNN'S beautiful pure dye silk and pongee blouses with hand stitching (usually priced at $21.00) have now been reduced to $16.95. This sale of blouses is tops from the standpoint of price and styling. Don't delay - go to LYNN'S LTD., across from the Pine Inn in Carmel, and choose your spring blouse now. It will do a lot for your suit and your morale.

FOR THE KEYNOTE OF FASHION - a little Carmel specialty shop with department store prices, THE CARMEL DRESS SHOP, has in stock the garments of three nationally advertised manufacturers who are equipped to give fashion fundamentals in fabrics, styling, quality and price. These three manufacturers' clothes are among the best that can be bought anywhere. They have sacrificed nothing, and yet are able to deliver inexpensive clothes in the height of fashion in rayons, prints, pure silks and silk shantung. The manufacturers are Kay Dunhill, Rosenfeld, and McKellic. The latter is famous for doing wonders with one hundred percent denier crepes. The ever-popular Kay Dunhill, the fabulous Rosenfeld, we all know, but do you know that the lovely, subtle, beautifully styled dresses of all three are available from $10.95 to $19.95. This means that you don't have to shop out of Carmel. If you are looking for top-name clothes fittingly priced, THE CARMEL DRESS SHOP on Ocean Ave. and Dolores is changing its windows frequently to let you see the incoming styles. Be sure and see the windows as you pass by. Stop in, and if you feel like it, Mrs. Miller will show you her selections.

THERE IS A RACK of most interesting clothes in MAXINE'S that are one quarter off regular prices. They are what is left of the January general clearance sale. To describe the bargains on this rack would take up this whole column, but let me say that the dresses are of woolsens, jerseys, cardigans or gabardines. The coats are by Towncraft, and this is certainly an opportunity for one to pick up a coat by a top designer. Included are a group of attractive raincoats that would see one through the rest of the rainy season. Parties are still occurring, and for them you can select glamorous cocktail skirts from a good selection of velvets, velveteens, taffetas and faille taffetas. If you are sports-minded or just like to be comfortable around the house, you should see the slack selection. MAXINE'S on Dolores and Ocean Ave has a very fine reputation for its slack line. The velveteens are elegant for "at homes." The tweeds and grey flannels are as expertly tailored as one would wish. It is hard to face rising prices, and since it appears that it is something we must do, why not drop in at MAXINE'S and take advantage of this clearance sale in order to lessen the strain.

OLD KING COTTON wastes no time in making his appearance early in the year. The BETTY BARCLAY cottons in THE COLLEGIATE DRESS SHOP leave nothing to be asked for. There are candy stripes in many colors, beautifully matched, and also shirtmaker dresses with trim little pique collars. Then there are tucked fronts and little embroidered collars and turned backed cuffs with little studs. You should see the dresses in plain colors with little appliqued lace daisies that button on and off. When the daisies are off, you have trim, neat little pockets. There are low-necked dresses with unpressed pleats that make one feel very lush and crisp. Also there are bold plaids and squares in cotton. One dress, a navy, white and grey squares with pushed up sleeves and unpressed pleats would be wonderful for street wear. Everyone knows that BETTY BARCLAY is supreme in cottons. The price is right too, so if you want to be an early bird that get the reward, you'll take advantage now of the good selection of these cottons at THE COLLEGIATE DRESS SHOP at 489 Alvarado St., Monterey.

SHIRLEY STODDARD TO ADDRESS CAMERA CLUB

There will be a regular meeting of the Padre Trails Camera Club Saturday night, January 20th at 7:30 p.m. in Room 11, Sunset School. The subject for discussion will be, "How to tell a Picture Story." Miss Shirley Stoddard, editor of "Game and Gossip" magazine, will address the club and show some of her "Picture Stories." Anyone interested in amateur photography is invited to attend.

RENEW YOUR FIRST AID CERTIFICATES

According to Andy Wiemann, Chairman of Safety Services for the Carmel Red Cross, a course in standard and advanced first aid is scheduled to begin January 24 at the Carmel Woman's Club, to run Wednesdays and Fridays, from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Those previously trained, but whose certificates have expired (certificates received more than three years ago) are urged to attend, as well as those interested in going on to take the instructors course. Women trained in first aid are particularly needed for civil defense work.

CARMEL HIGHLANDS PREPARED

Uncertainty concerning present world conditions necessitates measures to meet any eventuality. Heading the list of musts is good first aid training. Consequently as a part of a disaster relief program, Carmel Highlands is organizing first aid classes, so Col. Alfred S. Balsam (USA ret.), chairman announced.

Those interested should call Mrs. Barbara Schroeder, secretary of Carmel Highlands Association, 7-4861. Classes will be held in the Highlands firehouse, time of their meeting to be announced later.

FIRE, the dreaded enemy of California country homes claimed another victim Friday night in the Carmel Valley home of Fred Godwin, former mayor of Carmel and owner of La Playa Hotel in Carmel and La Playa Ranch in Carmel Valley. It was his home at the ranch that was completely destroyed. Guest facilities at the swimming pool were not damaged.

The fire was discovered about 8 p. m. by a neighbor who notified the caretaker and the local fire department as well as the Carmel Hill station of the State Forestry Division. They responded immediately, but unfortunately by this time, the fire had made such headway that it was impossible to save the house or contents. The above photographs were taken by Dean Taylor, a Carmel Valley resident who joined hundreds of others at the scene.

GAS FROM TEXAS

It would take more than 24 Shasta-Keswick power plants, 13 Moss Landing plants or nearly nine Hoover Dam plants to produce an annual amount of energy equivalent to that of the natural gas delivered in one year over the new P.G. and E. Super Inch line at the rate of 400 million cubic feet a day.

The line now is bringing gas to Northern California from Texas and New Mexico fields at the rate of 200 million cubic feet daily.

The Super Inch was brought into service at the beginning of this year marking completion of one of the most dramatic construction projects ever undertaken by P.G. and E. The transmission system extends over more than 1600 miles, spanning the great deserts of the Southwest, crossing rivers and seven mountain ranges and coursing through the rich farmlands of the San Joaquin Valley. The El Paso Natural Gas Company of Texas built the line from the gas fields to Topock on the California-Arizona border near Needles, and P.G. and E. built from that point to its Milpitas terminal at the southern tip of San Francisco Bay.

MONTEREY PENINSULA STAMP CLUB

Colonel John R. Wright, president of the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club, conducted a short business meeting before the scheduled auction held in the library of the Sunset School, Monday evening, January 15.

After hearing the report of the treasurer and secretary, Mrs. Cary C. Smead, Col Wright asked for a vote on questions from a questionnaire. The large number of members present voted a unanimous "No" on the question of the issuance by the United Nations of a long series of stamps of values from 1¢ to $5. Profits from the sales to to the United Nations. Values suggested as more practical were: 1¢, 3¢, 5¢, 25¢, and $1. The second question was for a delegate to attend the convention in Cairo, Egypt. There were no volunteers. The third question was also vetoed. It was in favor of a stamp commemorating the 175th anniversary of the making of the flag of the United States of America on June 14, 1952. It was agreed that the 200th anniversary of Flag Day should be commemorated.

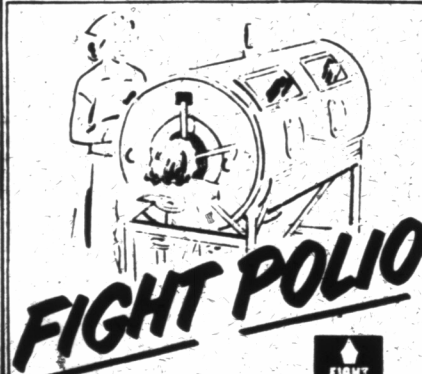

Colonel Wright asked that an expression of sorrow over the loss of Dr. E.T. Patee, an esteemed member, be entered on the minutes. The new Hobby page of the Pacific Grove Tribune was also mentioned. The page was given over to the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club in the issue of January 12.

The late Dr. Patee expressed interest in the appreciation of stamps sent to hospitalized veterans. The Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club is prepared to receive at each meeting, donations of stamps for veterans. Members will deposit stamps in a special box.

A table covered with first-day covers, cards and stamps in envelopes was auctioned by E.R. Blankenship who combined wit with humor in bringing out the bids. It was agreed that the members must have taken President Truman's budget message seriously as the high-priced stamps such as a Graf Zeppelin for $13 and a New Foundland $15 stamp were unsold. Bidding for first day covers and lower priced stamps was spirited and full of fun.

The next meeting will be an auction and "swap" meeting held on February 5 at 8 p.m. in the library of Sunset School, Carmel. Bring your duplicates, your surplus stock, your albums, your money and enjoy this "hobby of kings."

CRAFTS GUILD MEETING

Camel Crafts Guild will hold general meeting Wednesday the 24th of January at 8:00 p.m. in the Carmel Art Association Gallery. Refreshments will be served.

IT WILL BLOW SATURDAY

Sometime Saturday afternoon you will hear (we hope) the new sirens at the Carmel Firehouse. Tests will be held to determine if new air horns just installed will reach the entire Carmel area. The horns are air horns and there are eight of them arranged so that they point in all directions. In the event of an emergency they can be operated by a generator and be independent of any other power source.

The main purpose of installing the horns now is their possible use in the future if necessary, as air raid or disaster warnings. It is cheaper to install the new horns than repair those now in use.

UTES FOR CHARLES ALLAIRE

Requiem mass for Charles William Allaire was conducted Wednesday morning at 9:30 at the Carmel Mission. Mr. Allaire, who died Sunday evening at a local hospital, has been a resident of this area for many years. He was active in a number of organizations, the Carmel Rotary Club, Monterey Elks Lodge, Knights of Columbus, and the Holy Name Society. His passing is mourned by many friends both in Monterey where he lived for a number of years, and in Carmel where he has lived for the past seven.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, Charles, Louis, and Basil of Carmel; two daughters, Eleanor Allaire of Carmel and Mrs. Dorothy Linebarger of San Francisco; and several grandchildren.

At the regular Wednesday meeting of the Carmel Rotary Club at the Highlands Inn, President Corum Jackson announced that the Rotary Club would have a Mass said for their departed member, Charles Allaire.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S

WHO IS IT?

The CARMEL SPECTATOR'S "Who Is It?" in this issue is Ralph H. Castagna, joint owner with Peter Stuart Burke of the Carmel Drug Store. His interest in one of the oldest stores on Ocean Avenue is the story of a young man's dream come true.

When first he saw the store, he was a student just completing work for his pharmacist's degree at the University of California College of Pharmacy. While visiting the old Carmel of sandy streets and quaint homes he felt, like so many others before and since, that this was the place where he would like to live and work.

Management for several years of the Fairmont Hotel Pharmacy on Nob Hill in San Francisco, together with earlier work in the chemical laboratory gave him the perfect background for his present work.

In 1931, then, when the opportunity to become a partner of Mr. Burke's offered itself, he was ready to make the dream come true. A pharmacist himself, Mr. Castagna has always taken particular pride in the prescription end of his business, and in addition to himself has two other registered pharmacists filling the many prescriptions which come in daily.

The other phases of his work to which he gives considerable care are the window displays and the arrangement of merchandise. "I've always tried to keep the store attractive and free of clutter and the ugly attention-getting signs one finds in so many city stores, and to offer to Carmel only the finest quality of merchandise," he says.

Although his first love is his work, Mr. Castagna confesses to a second-- golf-- and a third-- photography. Concerning the second he admits that he's "not too good...and yet not too bad either."

Married in 1932, the Castagnas, who live in an attractive home on Ridgewood Road, have two children, David, fourteen, who attends Junipero Serra School, and Susan, twelve, who is at Sunset. David will not follow exactly in his dad's footsteps, but at least a field closely allied, for he is going to be a doctor. Susan has not yet committed herself to a career.
